NEW RED ATTACK BREWING

Man Buried Alive 6 Years Survives

Four Entombed in Food Warehouse When Germans Blasted Door Shut Near End of War

WARSAW, Poland, June 18—(AP)—The weird story of a German soldier buried alive for six years unfolded today.

Reliable sources said the soldier, identified only as a 32-year-old Berliner, is in a hospital being treated for blindness which resulted from entombment since 1945 in a sealed off Wehrmacht underground food warehouse.

Authorities concerned with the case were reluctant to talk, but trustworthy informants gave the following account:

The buried man emerged from his trap near the seaport to Gdynia recently with a knee-length beard and hair hanging down to his ankles. Frightened Poles ran when they saw him. Another German, who had also been buried, fell dead of a heart attack when he came into daylight.

The two, with four comrades, had been trapped in the food bunker when retreating Germans dynamited the entrance to prevent advancing Russians from entering. The six soldiers had sneaked in to pilfer supplies.

There were plentiful supplies of food, wine, tobacco and other stores. A hoard of candles lasted until two years ago. Since then the survivors had lived in total darkness.

Water for drinking seeped through cracks in the reinforced concrete. The men washed in liquor.

Shortly after entombment one of the soldiers committed suicide, another took his own life a few weeks later and two others died of illness. Their bodies were buried in flour which muffled them.

How the two survivors finally escaped was not explained. There were no tools in the bunker.

Forces Massing And War in Air Is Stepped Up

Resistance Stiffens As Allied Troops Fight Doggedly on

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
TOKYO, June 18—(AP)—Roaring U. S. Sabre jets shot down six Red jet planes and damaged eight in two swirling air battles over northwest Korea Sunday and Monday.

Red jets came out in force as United Nations ground forces hammered at threatening Communist buildups near the 38th Parallel.

Fierce Communist resistance all along the front, coupled with heavy road traffic, hinted at the possibility the Chinese were building up for a third round of their spring offensive.

Russian type MIG-15 jets were reported more aggressive than ever before. Far East air forces said all U. S. planes returned safely.

A total of 108 planes were involved in the two air battles.

Monday's was the bigger and took the heaviest toll of the Reds -- five destroyed and two damaged. It was the biggest bag in two months. Thirty-three Sabre jets battled with 40 MIGs from 28,000 feet down to tree top level.

Sunday's air fight was between 20 American jets and 25 Reds. One MIG was reported shot down and six damaged.

Both battles were fought near the Manchurian border in MIG alley -- site of all previous jet engagements.

The ground war moved over familiar territory, but stirred up strong Red resistance in unexpected spots. In the center five Allied patrols were turned back by strong Red fire. Communists moved artillery into the "iron triangle" where none was encountered recently.

Only gains reported Sunday were in the east where front dispatches said Allies captured key heights on a push toward a "strategic assembly area."

The United Nations shoved a powerful task force across the Imjin River in the west, probing a reported Communist buildup area.

The task force fought through Red screening troops, but failed to contact the main body. The push carried the Allies across the 38th Parallel in the Korangpo area, due north of Seoul, on the lagging west flank of the Allied advance.

Chinese showed increasing resistance, and appeared in large numbers all along this flank reaching up to Chonwon at the southwest corner of the iron triangle.

Red resistance, coupled with heavy recent highway traffic and unconfirmed reports of Red build-ups across the Imjin, underscored a warning last week of Lt. Gen. James A. Van Fleet that the Chinese might soon launch the third phase of their spring offensive.

Allies pushing out of Chonwon ran into resistance in the iron triangle in territory previously deserted by the Chinese.

Heaviest Red resistance came at the southeastern end of the triangle. There UN tank forces are striking from two directions at Kumsong, new Communist base. Both tank columns were halted Sunday, one by sharp bazooka fire.

To the southeast, above the Hwachon Reservoir, three other UN patrols were turned back after sharp engagements.

On the eastern front, north of Yangsu and Inje, North Koreans fought fierce delaying actions.

Town in Texas Hit by Storm

DALLAS, June 18—(AP)—A low, roaring tornado dipped down on the small Dallas County community of Sachse today, knocking out communications and power lines.

A report that a "tremendous storm" had struck at Canton, Tex., to the east proved erroneous.

The storm at Sachse indirectly caused the death of E. O. Wharton, 63-year-old farmer who returned to his home from a field during the storm. His death apparently was caused by a heart attack.

Fayette County In New District

Redistricting Bill Signed by Governor

This is the last time Fayette County will be represented in the lower house of the United States Congress by Rep. Clarence J. Brown, a Republican, Blanchester newspaper publisher and farmer. Rep. Brown has represented the county in Congress for 15 years.

For, beginning with the 1952 elections, Fayette County will be in the sixth district instead of the seventh.

Rep. James G. Polk, a Democrat of Highland, now represents the sixth district. If he runs again in 1952 and is reelected, he will represent Fayette County; if he is defeated in the election, his conquerer will represent the county--and the sixth district.

Fayette County was the only county taken out of the nine-county seventh district and placed in the sixth district by the redistricting bill approved by the Legislature and signed into law Monday by Gov. Frank J. Lausche.

The new seventh district -- made up of Logan, Union, Champaign, Clark, Madison, Greene, Warren, Clinton and Fayette counties -- long has been considered a Republican stronghold. No other change was made in this district except removal of Fayette County.

Both Rep. Brown and the Fayette County Republican leaders protested vigorously the shift of Fayette County out of the seventh district into the sixth.

The new sixth district -- made up of Fayette, Pickaway, Ross, Pike, Scioto, Adams, Highland, Brown and Clermont -- is considered a borderline district politically. With the exception of Fayette and Pickaway counties, the sixth district is made up of what are commonly known as hill counties. It will be a case of complete new district associations for Fayette County political organizations.

The redistricting bill abolishes the congress-at-large and creates another--the 23rd -- district.

Other New Laws

He also let become law without his signature the Fink bill that provides an average increase in truck license fees of 35 percent to raise an extra $7,500,000 a year.

The redistricting bill will set up new districts from which congressmen will be elected in the 1952 election. It is designed to make the congressional districts more equal in population.

President Truman had suggested congressional districts throughout the various states have about 350,000 residents.

The measure breaks up the largest congressional district in the nation -- the 22nd in the Cleveland area -- which has about 900,000 population.

Bills signed by the governor will:

Let minors 15 years of age or over change the beneficiaries of their life insurance.

Relax the hours of work for women and minors during the national emergency.

Authorize special automobile license plates for amateur radio operators and physicians.

Police Arrest 11 in 48 Hours

All But Two Traffic Offenders

The usual large number of arrests were made by the police over Saturday and Sunday, including two men for driving while intoxicated.

All but two of those arrested were for violating traffic laws.

One of the men listed for driving while intoxicated was Milton Edward Cummings of Columbus, who was involved in a wreck on Columbus Avenue at 8:45 P. M. Saturday, when his car crashed into the rear of Grover C. Melvin's car.

Melvin had slowed down for a car in front of him to turn into the hospital driveway, when the Cummings car struck the rear of his vehicle. Cummings posted $300 bond for his appearance.

The other driver arrested for driving while intoxicated was Harold Danfer Ramey, 36, of near Washington C. H., who posted $150 bail and was released.

Others arrested by the police or cited for traffic law violations included:

Lawrence Gleeson, Jr., 33, Philadelphia, running through a stop sign. Bond $10.

Earl D. Landrum, Washington C. H., running through red light at Market and Fayette streets. Bail $10.

James Bertram Rinehart, Millersburg, excessive noise by reason of no muffler. Bond $25.

William Anthony Adams, Louisville, Ky., running a stop sign. Bail $10.

Robert Warren Scott, not observing stop sign. Bond $10.

Stanley Ray Hughes, West Virginia, driving 50 miles an hour on Columbus Avenue. $10 bond.

Two men were arrested for being intoxicated.

'Hired Man' Influential in Senate

By KEN DAVIS
COLUMBUS, June 18—(AP)—You ought to know Tom Bateman.

He probably is the most influential man in the Ohio legislature. And the legislature makes laws which regulate your conduct.

You hear little of Tom Bateman, but tomorrow his behind-the-scenes work will figure vitally when the Ohio general assembly winds up its biennial session.

You didn't elect him, either. Members of the Republican-controlled Senate hired him.

Officially, Thomas Edward Bateman is clerk of the Ohio Senate. For this he is paid $7,200 a year. (A senator gets $2,600).

By virtue of 32 years service as hired hand of the Senate, Bateman also is arbiter of good Senate manners, high judge of things parliamentary and crutch for inexperienced or confused senators.

DT&I Train To Continue; Case Dropped

COLUMBUS, June 18—(AP)—The Detroit, Toledo and Ironton Railroad today abandoned--temporarily, at least--its fight to discontinue passenger service between Springfield and Jackson.

The railroad filed a petition in U. S. district court here withdrawing an injunction action brought against the Public Utilities Commission, the governor and the attorney general.

The junction would have compelled the PUCO to allow the railroad to abandon the passenger service.

The railroad, in its original request, to stop service, said it lost about $206 a day by carrying passengers on the small train. The PUCO, in denying the request, said the railroad failed to show it lost any money.

The railroad, instead of appealing the PUCO decision, then went directly to federal court in the injunction action.

The governor and attorney general were named because of the penalties provided by law for failure to carry out the decision. The railroad could have been fined $2,000 a day if it had refused to continue the passenger service.

In its injunction action, the railroad said the PUCO decision amounted to confiscating property without due process of law. The action was filed last March 15.

U. S. Embassy Guard Killed In Havana

HAVANA, Cuba, June 18—(AP)—A U. S. marine guard and a janitor were found shot to death today in the U. S. embassy.

The embassy said Cuban authorities are investigating, but gave no clues as to what caused the shootings, other than saying there were no indications of attempted robbery.

The janitor, Agustin Fernandez, has been employed there more than 20 years.

The marine guard, a sergeant, was not identified pending notification of his relatives.

The bodies were found in one of the embassy offices.

Man Is Held for Fatal Beating Of Woman During Beer Party

COVINGTON, Ky., June 18—(AP)—Raymond McNabb, 26, was arrested today on a murder charge in connection with the death early today of Miss Lucy Freeland, 25, of Peebles, O.

Detective Chief Albert Seiter said witnesses told him McNabb, an ex-convict, beat and kicked the young woman to death following an argument.

Seiter said he was told the following story:

McNabb, Miss Freeland and some friends were sitting in the rear yard of an apartment house drinking beer. An argument ensued and the girl went into the house.

McNabb hurled a flower pot through a window and followed her.

As he beat and kicked her, H. Wilcher, a tenant, struck McNabb over the head with a top baseball bat. Mrs. Malissa Wilcher also hit him, but could not stop him.

McNabb was held without bond and referred to the Kenton County court when he appeared in police court.

Police records show that McNabb was sentenced to two years' imprisonment for burglary in Hamilton County, O., in April, 1948, and was paroled from London Prison Farm about a year later.

Following his release, he was sentenced to six months in the Kenton County jail on an assault and battery charge.

Weather Normal Except in South

CHICAGO, June 18—(AP)—June's sizzling hot weather was showing no letup in the far southwest today but other parts of the country had near normal weather.

Temperatures soared above 100 again in the country's torrid zone from the Rio Grande Valley to Southern California. It was 110 at the Presidio, Tex., 108 at Las Vegas, Nev., and 107 at Yuma, Ariz. Early today it was 87 at Needles, Calif.

Today's decision to seek a quick wind up of the inquiry was made at a brief closed-door session of the inquiry panel.

Russell said the committee decided not to call presidential Adviser W. Averell Harriman as a witness.

Harriman Passed Up

Harriman had been tentatively scheduled to testify tomorrow. Russell said Harriman and the committee agreed his testimony would cover ground already well covered by other witnesses.

Russell had no immediate word as to the hearing schedule for the four remaining witnesses.

General O'Donnell himself became a center of controversy last January when he returned from Korea and was quoted in an interview at March Air Base, California, as saying the United States would use "the ultimate weapon" with effectiveness in Korea.

A reporter asked what was meant by the "ultimate weapon" and O'Donnell was quoted as replying, "the atomic bomb."

The White House took occasion to say O'Donnell was speaking only for himself and not for the government. O'Donnell himself later backed away from an outright endorsement of use of the A-bomb.

O'Donnell is now commanding general of the 15th Air Force at March Air Base.

3,000,000 Koreans Killed During War, Report

NEW YORK, June 18—(AP)—Korea's ambassador to the U. S. says war has taken a toll of 3,000,000 Koreans and made another 10,000,000 homeless.

Dr. You Chan Yang says millions "have lost everything they owned--their homes, their possessions, their supplies of food, everything but the clothing they are actually wearing."

More Terrible Than Atomic Bomb?

U.S. Develops New Explosive

WASHINGTON, June 18—(AP)—Military planners say the U. S. air force now has available to it explosive power greater than all the explosions from the invention of gunpowder to the atomic attack on Hiroshima.

These officials, who may not be named, told a reporter today that if the Soviets choose war, the U. S. can hurl down on Russian cities, people and armies destruction frightful beyond comprehension.

Unfortunately, only a relatively few men, none of them Russian, understand the power of the U. S. has shaped into its atomic weapons, air force and sea service.

Nor does there seem a way, except for the politically dangerous demonstrations of dropping a sample bomb on the Communist enemy in Korea, to convince Russia of this power of retaliation.

American officials, from the highest levels down, have been speaking publicly for five years of the "deterrent" effect of the atomic bomb on Russian aggression plans. Because the phrase has been used so often, with so little elaboration, its meaning has worn thin. Moreover, it is quite likely the phrase came into existence before the real power was attained.

But now officials who make the statement aren't bluffing the Russians. They are telling them. Military men who must make the plans for any retaliation say the U. S. strategic air command now has available explosive power greater than all the man-made blasts before Hiroshima, in 1945.

Improvement Studied For Children's Home

The Fayette County Board of Commissioners at their regular meeting in the Court House Monday morning agreed upon an immediate study of a long range plan for improvement of the Fayette County Children's Home.

This study is being made in association with the board of trustees of the home. The county commissioners state that these trustees have been functioning excellently with what money the county has been able to appropriate each year for the institution.

Both boards however, commissioners and trustees, recognize that the County Home is needing a number of improvements of a definite nature. Some work such as roof repair is already underway from funds now available but there are other repairs and improvements which both boards and other friends of this children's institution know must be made as soon as possible. No major improvements in buildings and other facilities there have been made in more than a score of years.

Studying Finances

The problem now bothering the county commissioners is how to secure enough finances to make necessary changes. For this reason a long range plan covering at least the next five years is under consideration.

The total expense involved may run from $75,000 to $100,000. Other expenses of the county, the same as in all other fields of business and government, have increased rapidly within the past few years. The county's present tax income is approximately completely used in meeting these expenses.

The commissioners at present are giving serious thought to the county's financial setup and how funds can be handled so as to provide for repairs and improvement such as those definitely known to be needed at the Children's Home, some of which unless made soon, may cause greater expense at a later date.

One suggested plan being given some thought is to remove the present amount in the county's general fund now used to finance Fayette County's share in the expense of the Tuberculosis Sanatorium at Chillicothe, which cares for patients from five counties in this section of the state.

This is a necessary expense and several patients from Fayette County are cared for at that institution, all the time.

Levy Renewal Considered

If what this now costs the county is removed from the general fund and financed by a small levy, probably about two tenths of one mill, the commissioners feel that they would be in shape to proceed with the five year plan for aiding the Fayette County Children's Home.

Formerly the county's share of expense in the five-county district Tubercular Sanatorium was paid by a quarter of a mill levy. Some years ago this levy expired and never was renewed, the money thereafter having to be taken from the county's general fund.

The plan which the commissioners are now studying and discussing would contemplate renewal of this levy by a vote of the people of the county, providing there are no legal obstacles.

The decision of the commissioners on this matter probably will come within a short time, since if such a levy must be voted upon it will have to be presented to the county board of elections within a few weeks.

Life on U. S. Farms Studied by Youths

The students will work on Clinton County farms, in farm homes, and in food processing plants in the area to become well acquainted with the way rural people live and enjoy themselves.

Woman Happy Upon Return From England

Mrs. Bangs and
Two Children
Tell Experiences

"There's no place like home," is the firm belief of Mrs. Kenneth Bangs who returned home in Washington C. H. Saturday after a three-month visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Tyrrell of Stockport, England.

Mrs. Bangs took her first trip back to see her folks since coming to this country some six years ago. She took Patricia Ann and Larry, her two children, on their first ocean trip.

"We all got sick on the trip over," she said. "The Queen Elizabeth goes so fast that it bounced all over." It takes four and a half days for the ship to make the crossing.

Mrs. Bangs' husband, Kenneth, stayed behind this time. He is the assistant manager of the Murphy Store here.

England had some nice points of interest for Mrs. Bangs, but there were many things which cannot be compared to the United States.

Food rationing seemed to be the main worry.

"We had six chops per week for the five of us, and the children weren't used to having so little meat," Mrs. Bangs said.

Everything Shabby

To supplement the rationed food, Mrs. Bangs sent a couple of food parcels to his wife while she was in England.

"Everything looked rather shabby--it all seemed to need fixing up and painted," she said. As an afterthought she added, "Maybe it's just because America is so much brighter."

She did find the English countryside much greener than here. "But they didn't get as much sunshine there as here," she added. "We only saw the sun a couple of days during the time we were there."

When anyone visits England they automatically come under the government's medical set-up and Mrs. Bangs got some first-hand experience with socialized medicine. Both Patricia Ann, age four and Larry two and a half came down with the measles.

Patricia celebrated her fourth birthday just after they arrived at her parents' home. Tyrrell had a birthday party for her.

With food being hard to get, Mrs. Bangs said that her mother had saved their Christmas fruit cake since December so that Patricia could have a cake.

Another celebration came when Mrs. Bangs' sister got married on March 24. "They really had a nice wedding even though it's hard to find anywhere to live," Mrs. Bangs said.

Receives SOS Call

The Bangs also got to visit the Festival of Britain while they were in London. "There were some marvelous sights to see there," she reported, but added that it seemed they could have used the buildings to house some of the people who have no place to live.

Although the trip over was rather bad, the trip back on the Britannic was very nice, Mrs. Bangs said.

"It took us eight days to come back and the children had a wonderful time. Larry kept climbing all over the ship and sometimes became somewhat of a worry," she said.

While they were coming back, the Britannic received an SOS call from an American freighter. A number of the crew was stricken and they had no medical facilities. The Britannic rushed to the freighter's side, but the sailor had died, Mrs. Bangs said.

A big surprise awaited Mr. Bangs when his wife and the two youngsters came down the gangplank in New York on June 9.

When Larry, who couldn't talk when he left for the trip, returned

Grain Market

CHICAGO, June 18 - (P) - Wheat sank slowly downward on the Board of Trade today in the absence of any strong demand. Most other grains also eased. Good crop prospects, starting of the wheat harvest in Kansas and continued lack of export buying served to depress wheat. Corn found difficulty in making any progress because of good crop growing weather in the mid-west.

Financial Market

NEW YORK, June 18 - (P) - Oils resumed the role of stock market leader today, but only a portion of the list followed oils higher. The rest remained unchanged or moved a trifle lower. The result was a thoroughly mixed price pattern.

Gains in the oil division ran from a few cents to more than $2 a share among heavy Elixiers, the gains were ended at around the dollar mark.

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, June 18—(AP)—President Truman's talk to the nation last night was a lesson in the psychology of how you go about trying to get something you want.

What Mr. Truman wants is for Congress to reinforce and continue the present law giving the government power to control prices, wages and other things. That law dies 15 days from now, June 30, unless by then Congress votes to keep it longer.

There's already quite a bundle of hostility in Congress toward Mr. Truman, particularly among the Republicans, and he apparently figured there's no sense in stirring up the lions upon whom he must depend to get the law continued.

So, although the main point in his talk was to ask the people to stick a needle in Congress -- by urging their congressmen to continue the law -- the president himself handled Congress very gently.

He didn't single out for blame by name any of those members of Congress who, he said, are of a mind to scuttle the whole control law. In fact he didn't blame Congress for anything.

He just said that most of those who went up to Congress to talk about the law wanted it killed. But those were special groups, he said, and he particularly singled out for criticism the National Association of Manufacturers.

But the people as a whole, he said, hadn't bothered to make their views known to their congressmen and this was what the president urged them to do.

Of course, if Mr. Truman doesn't get what he wants and Congress lets the law die and we have even worse inflation, he can then take out after Congress without mincing words, as he has done in the past.

But even that would be a little awkward for him since his own party Democrats have a majority in Congress, although only a slim one, and therefore might appear to put through anything they wished.

It isn't news, of course, to say that majority is mostly a paper majority since on any given issue some of the Democrats go over on the Republican side while some Republicans hop over with the Democrats.

But the presidential plea to the people to get behind Congress and give a push is a pretty clear admission that the president is a long way from having any strong party control in Congress or getting what he wants there.

And he had another pretty good reason for going easy on Congress last night to avoid stirring up any more antagonism than exists there now. He wants Congress to pass some other important legislation.

Mainly these three: (1) billions for defense; (2) more billions for foreign arms and economic aid; and (3) more billions to run the government. Congress already has shown its mood is to whack big chunks out of No. 3. It hasn't taken any real action on Nos. 1 and 2.

All in all, Mr. Truman's talk last night was mostly a job of explaining to the nation in ABC style why he thinks the controls law should be continued. It was carefully done. No one could complain it was over his head.

How New Ohio Law Affects County Hospitals In State

County hospitals, like the Fayette County Memorial Hospital in this city, which have come into being in the years following World War II, are affected by the Collins-Mundy Bill-HB 392, which was signed into law this week by Gov. Frank J. Lausche.

The new law will not directly cause any changes in the hospital here since it was constructed and in operation before the law was enacted, but the measure contains some provisions which, under certain circumstances, could have a bearing on the institution here.

Briefly, HB 392 takes control and appointment of hospital board members from the state, places it in county hands and allows county board members to do all contracting.

Under the old general code governing county public hospitals, a building board was appointed by the governor and subsequently an operating board was named by county commissioners when the hospital was built and equipped. That was the procedure in the case of the Fayette County Memorial Hospital.

The Collins-Mundy Bill now provides for complete county control. Under its provisions, the three county commissioners, the probate judge and the common pleas judge (the last-named being senior in years of service where more than one common pleas judge serves a county) appoint the building board members to four-year terms, with one term expiring each year.

The building board, when the hospital is built and furnished, automatically becomes the operating board. From the start, the building board has authority to hire an administrator. Under the old law Miss Christine Evans was employed first as consultant to the construction board then named administrator when the operating board, with a different membership, took control of the hospital here.

The new law keeps finances in the county auditor's and treasurer's offices. Vouchers must be approved, for instance, through Auditor Ulric Acton's office, and payment made by Treasurer Charles Fabb out of hospital appropriations made by the county commissioners.

However, the Collins - Mundy bill also has a clause providing operation of county hospitals by non - sectarian, non-profit organizations which might lease them from county commissioners for no more than 10 years at a time.

This may be done, the law provides, when the hospital is fully equipped and ready for occupancy.

In effect, observers say, the non-profit organization clause takes hospital operation out of politics yet allows it to completely use public money for operation.

Coshocton Memorial Hospital has been cited as an example of this type of maneuvering to give the operating board a freer hand in administering the hospital with regular reports to the governmental board from which the building is leased.

In that case, though, the hospital is city-owned. There, it was learned, the city of Coshocton leased its hospital to a non-profit organization -- after the Junior Chamber of Commerce there backed the movement--for a five-year period with two ten-year renewal options at $1 per year. It has been operated in this fashion since Dec. 16, 1945 with reports to the municipal government on its operation--expenses, income, etc.

Speed Causes Many Accidents

Police Chief Here Stresses Safe Driving

Emphasizing that excessive speed is one of the greatest contributing factors to traffic accidents, Police Chief Vaiden Long urges those who drive to take it easy and live longer.

Unsafe speed, he pointed out, can be any speed--20 miles an hour to 100 miles an hour.

It is this inability to recognize 30 to 35 miles an hour as an unsafe speed under certain circumstances that leads to so much disaster on the streets and highway, Chief Long said.

"Fully as important as posted speed limits -- if not more so -- are the speed limits that each motorist should impose upon himself," said Chief Long.

"In every driver there should be a sense of responsibility toward his driving, a realization that posted speed limits are an interpretation of what constitutes safe speed on a road under ideal circumstances. How fast you may drive depends upon conditions: night, rain, fog, other traffic, the road surface, the driver's condition.

"Begin your trip a little earlier so you won't be tempted to speed. Remember . . .

"Speed Kills - Take It Easy!" he added.

A Warning About "Selling Out" for Security

In a meeting attended by quite a number of people in this city recently, a speaker made a statement that should be very thoughtfully considered by those who heard him. It is not new in concept but deserves repeating many times.

This speaker declared that we are losing our balance, our national poise and our individual initiative by our craving for security and the desire among a growing number of people to avoid accepting personal responsibility.

Others have warned repeatedly that this giving up liberty to gain some type of security, even though only temporary, is sapping the spirit of our nation.

It was reported recently that the speaker at the 139th annual commencement of the Princeton Theological Seminary, made this startling assertion: "Because people today seem inclined to demand security at any cost the pioneer psychology of our country is giving way to soft living."

"We are so taken up with collective security that we are forgetting to stress the case for individual initiative. We had better be on our guard against a society which mistakes comfort for civilization."

Perhaps in scientific research in industry and in the field of medicine are found about the only places where the pioneer psychology of individual initiative still remains strong.

To "guard against a society which mistakes comfort for civilization" is a stern warning which all Americans ought to heed at all times. We should beware of the "something for nothing" philosophy. It has never helped any country over the long pull of progress and it never will.

Wasteful Inefficiency

The new $6,000,000 Veterans Administration hospital at Clarksburg, W. Va., opened three and a half months ago. One month later it had 133 employees and total expenses of about $500,000 a year—but not a single doctor or a single patient! Another brand new $6,000,000 VA hospital, at Beckley, 120 miles from Clarksburg, which also was dedicated about three months ago, had two doctors but no patients 30 days later—yet its 160 employees were costing taxpayers $40,000 a month!

Under a proposed amendment to the tax laws, higher income groups were to be taxed 102½ percent, but some reactionary congressmen without vision raised such a ruckus the committee decided to give ground temporarily and stop at 100 percent.

Invasion of greenbugs, potato bugs, grasshoppers and other pests is hard to take on top of all the tax collectors.

A new gold strike is reported in South Africa, but in this country the wheat crop will be less golden than usual.

The Ring War Between the Ruins

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK—(AP)—"Old Joe" Louis looked like the old Joe Louis, the human chopper of yore.

He came out of his corner Friday night like a huge tawny cat, and there were moments when his fists held the splendor of his best days.

He took another victory walk up that loneliest of roads—the comeback trail to his crown. No other ex-heavyweight titleholder has ever made it all the way, and many ring-wise say Joe won't either.

But he showed anew that old champions never die in the public heart—if they just keep punching away.

Has "old Joe" lost his punch? Ask Lee Savold.

Savold was the unfortunate fellow in the ring with Louis in Madison Square Garden Friday night in a fight some hailed in advance as "the war between the ruins." Lee is a retired bartender, and to employ a term used in his former calling, he turned out to be a set-up for "old Joe." The lights went out for him in the sixth round, long after it is the house's normal turn to buy.

The basic trouble with Lee, a rugged 190-pounder, seemed to be that he didn't know what to do, although he had been in 104 other fights. Louis knew exactly ly what to do. He had promised to knock out Savold in the sixth. And he delivered as a prophet. "Old Joe" started stalking from the start. And he had all his old-time feline grace. Old? Well, the bald spot showed plainer and time had put a thick layer of flesh upon his explosive muscles. But Joe didn't creak. He flowed forward in a supple catlike prowl.

It wasn't long before he caught Savold in his famous "one-two-three," and threw his thudding gloves faster than the eye could follow.

Lost his speed and timing? Jaws dropped in the faces of men who had been saying that about him. A vast animal roar went up from the startled crowd. There was a new Joe Louis in the ring. And they sensed at once this new Joe Louis was like the old Joe Louis they had watched make so many kills. They raised the old fight mob lust cry:

"Put him away, Joe!" they yelled. "Put him away."

And through the din came one thin contrary voice, yelping bravely:

"Go get him, Lee!" Savold, perhaps overcome with loyalty to this invisible supporter, tried to follow his advice. But he was like a terrier sicked on to a tiger.

At the end of the first round his face and back were reddened. In the second his nose opened and ran crimson. In the third he developed a bad habit in the clinches of bouncing his chin up and down on Joe's flying gloves, and his yellow-haired head went back and forth like a busy yo-yo.

Louis, his own left eye swelling, cornered him in the fourth and almost put him away. Savold had an Indian summer burst of energy in the fifth, and shook Joe briefly with a long right to the head.

In the sixth Lee's nose became a ruptured tomato. Closing in with less than 30 seconds to go, Louis suddenly smashed him with a right and then his left glove caught Lee on the jaw with rocket power.

Savold didn't fall—or crumble. He actually bounced. And he scrambled with numb arms and legs while the referee tolled him into defeat.

Louis stood in the middle of the ring and took the cheers of the crowd impassively, as he always does, and wondering what?

The fight had been heralded as the "battle of the aged." Joe proved this a good 37-year-old fighter can beat a mediocre 35-year-old fighter. He showed he still has a champion's heart, and much of his dazzling speed and skill. But he didn't prove he was getting any younger.

His dream is still to beat heavyweight champion Ezzard Charles, who out-pawed him last September. But as the Cassandras of the canvas were saying last night:

"It won't be that simple with Charles."

For Savold, a 30-time loser in 105 starts, the future is simpler. Perhaps too elderly, certainly too inept ever to be a world champion, he might try another field—perhaps politics, although he doesn't do well in clinches.

But at 35 he is now old enough at last to run for the presidency.

Issue of 'The China Lobby' Raised

By George Sokolsky

Senator Brien McMahon raised the issue of "the China lobby" which is a vague and undefined term for American citizens who favor the cause of Nationalist China. Senator McMahon desires that "the China lobby" be investigated, which is not a bad idea.

But we should have an investigation of the public relations activities of all foreign governments in the United States. We might begin with the two largest, Soviet Russia and Great Britain, to find out precisely what they have done and how much they have expended in this country during the past 20 years.

It would be interesting to know how much was spent out of lend-lease, UNRRA and ECA -- that is, American money spent by aliens to influence American public opinion. Nationalist China's share would indeed be small, because that country never had much money. Senator Styles Bridges, in discussing this, asked:

"Now, there are many other friendly governments in the world today, with which we have association, who are interested in United States aid, United States help in one form or another, such as Great Britain, such as France, such as the Republic of India, such as Greece, such as Sweden, such as Finland, such as Denmark, such as Columbia, and so on.

"If they are over here attempting to persuade or influence American policy, either for the purpose of getting aid in any form, whether it be in loans, grants, or otherwise, or influence legislation, directly or indirectly, they are lobbyists and they should be investigated, should they not?"

What is generally meant by "the China lobby" is Americans who have spent their own time and money to fight the Communist conquest of China. I am sure that some agencies of the Nationalist government have hired Americans for various purposes. These should be registered as foreign agents according to the law.

But these are not what is meant by "the China lobby." The term always is used against such persons as Alfred Kohlberg, a reputable merchant, who has spent of his own fortune to fight Communism. Kohlberg, I am sure, would welcome investigation.

And Kohlberg is not alone. There are newspapermen, merchants and missionaries who have devoted themselves to fighting Communism not only in China but here at home. Because these are volunteers, receiving no subsidies from Nationalist China, they have functioned without consulting any Chinese. Most of them feel that Communism in China is an American issue.

Some of them are not at all concerned about Chiang Kai-Shek or T. V. Soong or any other Chinese. They feel that it is bad for the United States for Soviet Russia to own China. Some insist that this is historic moment, there is no alternate for Chiang Kai-Shek. Others hold the view that that is not as important as that Russia should not dominate China under any circumstances.

The principal conflict among so-called China experts -- apart from American Communists and fellow-travelers -- is on the subject of corruption and reform. Some feel that nothing can be done about China until corruption ends and reform is achieved. Others, like myself, take two views on this subject:

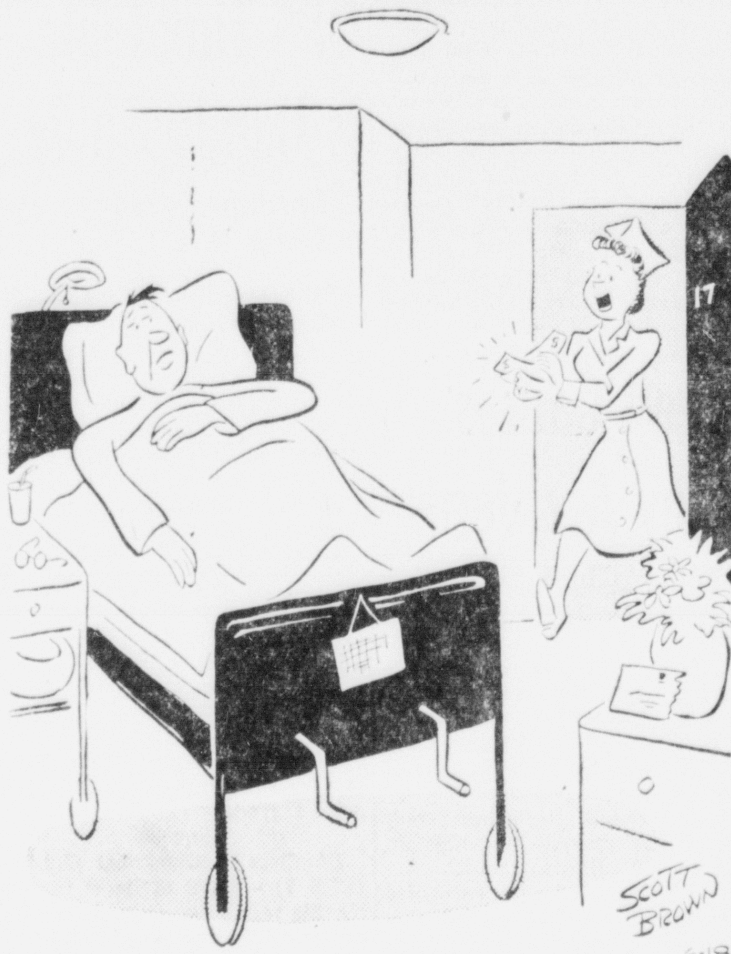

1. That what we call corruption in China is a normal, historic process of compensation for public services. It is not an efficient system, but it existed at one time or another in various forms (like tax farming) throughout the world.

2. That corruption is not as unusual as some like to indicate, and while it cannot be condoned, it apparently cannot be readily obliterated. Vide Kefauver and Fulbright reports, both of which only scratched the surface in this country.

This difference of view does not affect such a matter as the recent effort of certain Chinese in this country to corner the soybean market. Of this, all friends of China were ashamed. As the story went, this operation, via Hongkong, was essentially designed to avoid American income tax payments, which seems to be a habit with rich refugees in this country, certainly, the department of agriculture knows all about it and about the American lawyers who advised how to do such things. There is no reason why all of this should not be made public, unless the lawyers are too important politically to be involved in sordid business.

But none of this has anything to do with what Senator McMahon calls "the China lobby." (Copyright, 1951, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Diet and Health Cerebral Thrombosis Has New Treatment

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Until recently, very little could be done to help the patient with cerebral thrombosis beyond giving him the supportive care needed to keep him alive until Nature could heal his injury. This condition, which occurs most frequently in individuals over 50, results from the formation of a clot in one of the blood vessels of the brain.

Symptoms make a gradual appearance, in contrast to the sudden acute illness which occurs in stroke due to hemorrhage. In the former situation there is a gradual onset of headache, which becomes more severe with time and often persists until the patient develops some other more severe manifestation of his disease, such as unconsciousness or paralysis of this or that part of the body. Most such patients have a history of high blood pressure.

Not as Sick

The patient usually is not as sick as a person having a stroke due to hemorrhage, and the disease is not as sudden in onset.

In all cases of suspected cerebral thrombosis, however, a diagnosis must be made, and this is usually done by doing a spinal tap in which a needle is introduced into the spine. If the fluid removed is not of a bloody nature, it is very likely, in most cases, that the patient has suffered a thrombosis instead of a hemorrhage.

Recently, a new form of treatment has been devised to treat these cases of cerebral thrombosis. The theory behind this treatment is that an attempt is made to increase the circulation to the brain. This is done by injecting a special nerve in the neck of the individual, known as the stellate ganglion, a procedure which causes dilation of the blood vessels going to the brain and thus improves circulation to that organ. This procedure must be repeated every six to eight hours.

Lower Mortality

A group of 20 patients was thus treated, while a similar group of 22 patients was not. These tests showed that there was a lower mortality rate among those having the stellate ganglion injection. The patients were clearer mentally and more alert. Those having speech impairment improved greatly, and those with paralysis began to move their arms and legs again.

It is, very important to note

Children's Day Services Held

Vacation Bible School at End

The South Side Church of Christ was filled Sunday evening for the annual Children's Day services, which climaxed the daily vacation Bible school that had been in process for the last two weeks. Ninety-five were enrolled for the course, which included Bible study, recreation and homecraft.

Chorus and memory Bible verses had been memorized in the various classes were given in union. A quintet composed of Shirley Pollock, Donna Mossbarger, Linda Hamilton, Zola Jane Hooks and Mary Ellen Brooks sang "In My Heart."

Jackie Penwell sang "He Loves Everybody." Recitations were: "A Finished Plan," Rebecca Jane Coulter; "A Request," Delores Young; "The King in Nazareth," Zola Jane Hooks, Linda Hamilton, Donna Mossbarger and Shirley Pollock; "He Needs Boys Too," Stephen Barger; "Your Part," Bobby Blair; "On Sundays," Eddie Orr; "Thanks for the Bible," Mary Ellen Brooks.

"I've a Plan," Blanche Moots-paw; "Myself," Linda Hamilton; "A Part to Play," Susan Orr; "A Wish," Bobby Keller; "A Blessed Plan," Timmy Penwell; "Miriam was a Helper," Shirley Pollock; "I'll Try," Carl Anders; "A Good Beginning," Lana Huffman; "Sometimes" Rebecca J. Coulter and Constance Creamer; "A Happy Place," Stephanie Anders; "A Child's Prayer," Martha Ellen Willison; "Praise," Shirley Stewart; "We'll All Be Helping," Jackie Penwell and Scott; "A Sweet Goodbye," David Johnson.

A group of 17 boys and girls marched, to the tune of "Onward Christian Soldiers" and carried letters that spelled the words "Christ for the World."

A play entitled "Story Hour in Palestine," was one of the high lights of the program. Mrs. Charles Hooks was the mother who related the story of David, Samuel and the Good Samaritan.

Claude Coulter, aided by Frank Creamer, acted the part of the characters in silhouette form as the stories were told. Others taking part in the play were: Peggy Ann Snyder, Barbara Thomas, Marilyn Schiller, Joe Coulter and David Johnson.

The school sang the "Goodbye Chorus," after Mrs. Frank E. Creamer awarded diplomas to all who had been present every session during the two-week period.

On Friday afternoon the teachers entertained the pupils at a picnic, which was held on the church grounds.

Mrs. J. G. Jordan was in charge of the Children's Day program. Mrs. Creamer was accompanist to all the musical numbers, and

Stories Shrugged off
These stories skid off the massive shoulders of the 55-year-old Senate clerk every time he shrugs. "You know," Bateman snorts, "I think a lot of those things get started through jealousy. Honest."

"Sure, I make enemies. Every-time I turn around I'm saying no to some lobbyist who wants 50 copies of some Senate bill. But, those stories are ridiculous."

Senate clerk in the history of the Ohio legislature. He also is by far the dean of Ohio Senate clerks. No other Senate clerk stuck around -- making a career of the job -- like Thomas Edward Bateman.

He sits in as secretary of the rules committee -- something other Senate clerks have not done. He sits in at Republican caucus meetings. This, too, was taboo for the Democratic Senate clerk last session.

He is the helping hand to the last two Republican Senate majority or minority leaders. Young senators defer to Bateman's fabulous knowledge of Senate procedure.

"I've got the answers," said Bateman the other day. "That's the whole story. They ask me and I've got the answers. That's all there is to it."

He Does Have Answers

Bateman does have the answers, too. The Franklin County-born son of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Bateman, young Thomas Edward grew up in a political atmosphere. His father was active in Republican politics in Pike County for years; mayor of Pike County for 25 years and president of the school board.

And, his uncle, J. F. (Sandy) Bateman was the Republican party boss on the district and state level in Pike County for years unnumbered.

It's an oddity that Pike County swung Democratic for the first time in 1920, the year after young Tom Bateman came to Columbus as a state Senate clerk, meantime finishing out an unexpired term as clerk of courts in Pike County.

By this time he was married. He had quit law school at Ohio State University to enter the army for World War I. He served 13 months overseas with the 83rd and 26th divisions.

Before he went over he married Kathryn Freeman of Piketon, a childhood sweetheart. The Batemans had two children by the time Tom moved to Columbus in 1923 to be assistant Senate clerk. At nights, Tom finished up law school.

Because he made a career of the Senate clerkship, Attorney Bateman has practiced only six years since he was admitted to the bar in 1924. Those six years, the Democrats had the edge in the Senate.

Took Job in 1927

By 1927, Bateman took over as Senate clerk and he never has been seriously challenged for the job. As a matter of fact, the Republicans have no idea to whom the job should go when Clerk Bateman decides to bow out.

Whoever gets the job at that time undoubtedly will be around years before they are blasted by the stories that assail Bateman. Why?

Well, Bateman's normal, unadorned approach to things is at best called "brusque." That normal brusqueness has been burdened the last few years by some setbacks in health.

Tom admits it. "I snarl a bit. I just can't bow and scrape," he says. "Is that bad?"

So the stories have it that Tom has usurped power.

"I never venture an opinion to any senator about legislation or procedure unless I'm asked," counters Bateman.

The genesis of Bateman's power goes back to the long reign of Frank Whittemore of Akron as Republican leaders in the Senate. Whittemore through a combination of age and ill health came to depend upon Bateman beyond normal limits. Bateman says Whittemore asked him to accompany him to rules committee, party caucuses and, even, to conferences in the governor's office.

"This job has been my career. I know it better than any other man ever did," said Bateman candidly. "The senators ask questions and I've got the answers."

The story goes, too, that Bateman really takes over party caucuses. They say that during the present session, Senator Roscoe Walcutt of Columbus threatened to quit as Republican majority leader.

The way the story has it, Walcutt demanded senators reverse themselves after approving increased dependency allowances in unemployment benefits.

Cools off Senator

Walcutt, angered by opposing legislators, walked in a huff from the caucus. They say Tom Bateman stood up and carried the ball for Walcutt and saved his leadership.

Bateman laughs. "We had a rather heated caucus, I remember. And, Roscoe sort of lost his temper. He walked out to cool off and some of the senators asked me to go out and get him."

"How could I take over the caucus when I was outside cooling down Roscoe?"

Bateman, too, denies any information contact with lobbyists.

enemies than most of us. Many a person around state government thirsts for the Senate clerk's scalp.

"Just jealousy," snorts Bateman.

Perhaps it is. Perhaps many persons are jealous of Bateman's reputation for knowing what goes on in the Senate.

But, it also is certain the Senate clerk doesn't have to open letters or listen in on telephone calls to find out what goes on.

Within minutes after preliminary research on this story began, a senator ran to tell Bateman about it. He was a supposed political foe who had contributed information about the clerk.

Reds Break Even In Doubleheader

Dodgers Tighten Grip on N. L. Lead

By JOE REICHLER
(By The Associated Press)
Managed Luke Sewell has got himself a brand-new starting pitcher—a 27-year-old lad named Harry Perkowski who's been hanging around, off and on, since 1947.

Yesterday, in the opener of a doubleheader with the Boston Braves, Sewell sent the tall West Virginian out against Johnny Sain and Harry came back with a scalp dangling from his belt.

The Reds got for him two runs in their 2-1 opening game win, but one was unearned. Roy Hartsfield's second error paved the way for the ice-breaking run in the seventh. He couldn't find the handle on a hopper hit by Ted Kluszewski and Ted reached first. Singles by Virgil Stallcup and John Pramese sent big Klu home. Bob Usher's squeeze bunt produced the second run.

An infield single by Luis Marquez in the eighth, blended with a base on balls, a hit batsman and a hot double play grounder, scored Boston's run.

Ewell Blackwell couldn't keep up the pace in the finale. Sam Jethroe and Bob Elliott singled off Blackie in the third and Earl Torgeson cleared the decks with a drive into the centerfield corner of the bleachers.

Blackwell was chased in the fourth as another run scored. The final score was 5-0, Boston.

ATTENTION LATIN AMERICA!

Muchas Gracias, Habana! Viva Luis Aloma! Viva Orestes Minofo! Arriba Caracas! Arriba Chico Carrasquel!

Meaning Manager Paul Richards and his Chicago White Sox are grateful to Havana, Cuba and Caracas, Venezuela for their contributions to American "beisbol."

Aloma, Minofo and Carrasquel were the big guns yesterday as the American League-leading Medias Blanca (White Sox) swept a double-header from the Athletics, 4-1 and 9-0, to snap a three-game losing streak in Philadelphia.

Chicago's double win increased its first-place margin over New York to 3½ games despite the Yankees' 5-0 victory over Detroit. Boston's third-place Red Sox took two from St. Louis, 5-4 and 3-0, to remain five games off the pace. Washington swept a three-game series from Cleveland with 5-1 triumph.

***

BROOKLYN WIDENED its National League lead over the New York Giants to six games with a 3-2 win at Chicago as Pittsburgh defeated the Giants, 11-5, in the first game of a twin bill. The second game was called in the first game of a twin bill. The second game was called in Pittsburgh's half of the eighth inning because of the Sunday law. The score was tied at 6-6. The game will be resumed July 24.

The St. Louis Cards won their straight from the Philadelphia Phils, 5-4.

Carrasquel, senior shortstop in Caracas, was the offensive and defensive star of Chicago's first-game victory. The "brillante" Venezuelan rapped out two hits, drove in a run and handled five chances flawlessly. Randy Gumpert was the winner, his sixth straight.

Aloma and Minofo were "estupendo" in the second game Aloma hurled a five-hit shutout. It not only was the Cuban righthander's first victory but his first major league start.

Minofo rapped the "pelota" all over the park. In six times at bat, he collected two singles, a double, a triple, drew a walk and was hit by a pitched ball. He stole a base, his 13th in 14 attempts and batted in two runs and scored three.

The only time Philadelphia got the Cuban out was when they closed the park.

Jeffersonville Wins At Hillsboro, 8 to 5

Jeffersonville's Cubs came through with a three-run spree to beat Hillsboro, 8 to 5, in Sunday's SVO League game at Hillsboro after blowing a 5-0 lead. It was the fifth win for the Cubs against two defeats.

In spite of the seven Cub errors, it was the kind of game that keeps the fans on the edges of their seats. And it was those errors that kept the Cubs in hot water and were largely responsible for three of Hillsboro's runs.

The Cubs, by scoring two in the first and three in the fifth innings, were off to a good start. Then came the errors that paved the way for three Hillsboro runs in the sixth and another in the ninth that tied the score.

In the tenth, the Cubs cut loose with a vengeance and put across three runs that won the game.

The Cubs were the sluggers of the game. Dumford, Denen and Knecht all tripled and Denen and Sharrett got doubles.

Dumford, who took over the Cub's mound chores in the tenth, took no chances—he fanned two out of three to retire the side.

Knecht, fresh out of high school, struck out nine Hillsboro batters in nine innings.

Moose Lose in 11th At Blanchester, 4-3

It was tough luck for the Washington C. H. Moose team as they lost an 11 inning heartbreaker to Blanchester Sunday afternoon at Blanchester by a score of 4 to 3.

The Moose started off with a run in the first inning, but Blanchester came back with two in their half of the inning.

Washington C. H. evened it up in the fifth with another run and that's the way the board stood until the top of the tenth when the Moose pulled one run in on a three bagger by Anderson.

Blanchester tied it up again in the bottom of the tenth.

Then they collected the winning run in the bottom of the eleventh on a walk and two hits.

Other games in the SVO circuit showed top running Chilli-cothe still leading the pack with a 2 to 1 win over Greenfield, third place Jeffersonville taking an 8 to 5 decision over Hillsboro and Bowersville winning 10 to 5 from Wilmington.

The Moose team will call Wilson Field home from now on according to Moose manager Tom Smalley. The team had previously played their home games on the Good Hope diamond.

Marietta Is To Bid For Regatta Again

MARIETTA, June 18.—(AP)—This spunky little Ohio River town is going to bid for 1952 college rowing championships despite Saturday's bad luck.

Marietta still feels it has the best site for big regatta even though never before in history of modern sports has there been an event so dogged by misfortune as Saturday's races.

Roger Copeland, general chairman of Marietta regatta, said today Marietta's bid will be presented when the board of stewards of Intercollegiate Collegiate Rowing Association meet in New York July 16.

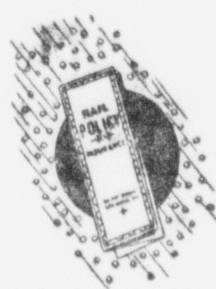

And, if the IRA refuses Marietta's bid, said Copeland, this town will sponsor its own regatta.

Wisconsin won the varsity race and the first crown for the mid-west Saturday afternoon.

Father and Son Drown in Lake

POSTORIA, June 18 —(AP)—A shoe store owner drowned with his son last night in a vain effort to save him.

David Frankhart, 42, owner of David and Roy's Shoe Store here, and his son, Robert, 12, were fishing in Lake Mosier, a city reservoir.

Police said the boy slipped and fell into the reservoir and his father, who was unable to swim, leaped in after him. Police and firemen recovered the bodies.

Survivor's wife, Arlene, and three daughters, Irene, 10, Ann, 6, and Darlene, two and a half years.

The average American uses about 350 pounds of paper a year, northern Europeans about 116 pounds and Asians about two and four tenths pounds.

The United States had it first billion bushel wheat crop in 1944.

Car Buyers and Auto Dealers Show Interest

Efforts of NADA Directors Deal with Sales, Taxes, Credits

Prospective motor car buyers as well as all dealers in Fayette County are expressing interest in the recent action of the board of directors of the National Automobile Dealers Association at its Detroit meeting.

Resolutions relative to stimulating auto sales and restoring reasonable credit terms, also intensifying efforts to prevent proposed excise taxes, were adopted.

At the directors' meeting there was a review of the progress made by the association. Future strategy to attain major objectives also was planned.

Highlights of the resolutions follow:

Regulation W -- NADA's Public Affairs Committee was directed to continue its aggressive efforts to have "the Federal Reserve Board make automobile credit terms more realistic and equitable and thereby enable wage earners to acquire the dependable transportation which they need."

In this connection, the directors pointed out that in promulgating regulation W the Federal Reserve Board failed to give full consideration to the fact that the automobile is an essential product. In addition, it was pointed out that present drastic credit terms have increased our highway safety problems by increasing the number of older cars being operated in an unsafe condition because owners cannot meet required high monthly payments for replacements. Moreover, by denying millions of Americans the right to buy essential transportation out of their earnings, the present terms create "class buying" and "seriously threaten individual liberties." Finally, it states that experience has already demonstrated that the automotive credit terms have had "an inconsequential effect on inflation."

Excise tax -- The Public Affairs Committee was also directed to continue its vigorous opposition to all attempts to increase federal excise taxes on motor vehicles. Pointing out that when a manufacturer's excise tax was levied on cars, it was to be a temporary emergency measure but, through succeeding years, has been increased to seven percent and that motor vehicles are vitally essential to the national welfare, the resolution charges that the automobile is presently bearing a disproportionate share of the excise tax burden. It was also pointed out that the motor vehicle, unlike other products, is a source of substantial tax revenue in that gasoline, oil, tires and replacement parts are all subject to federal taxation.

A third resolution states that vigorous efforts should be continued to effect restoration of the dealer's historic discount and to prevent "all arbitrary disruptions of our industry's business practices." It charges that the Office of Price Stabilization "definitely disturbed long established normal

Drive for Rent Hike Won't Be Abandoned

WASHINGTON, June 18 —(AP)—Republican senators who lost a committee fight to boost rent ceilings 37 percent said today they will carry the campaign to the floor of the Senate.

The Senate banking committee yesterday gave President Truman's anti-inflation program a boost by approving a bill to prolong and widen existing rent controls. New "critical defense areas" would be brought under the controls.

At the same time, the committee rejected a Republican-sponsored move to permit increases of up to 37 percent in "base period" rent ceilings.

Instead, the committee voted nine-to-four to limit the rent increases to 20 percent above base period levels. The base period is that date on which each of some 300 areas came under federal rent controls.

Prevailing 1942 levels were used in fixing most base period rent ceilings.

NAGGING ACES AND PAINS WERE RELIEVED BY HADACOL

When Nagging Aches and Pains Are Due To Deficiencies of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron, HADACOL Gives Welcome Relief.

Driving a truck is no holiday. It's hard work and a man has got to be on his toes all the time and feeling well to keep going. Edward Jakubowski, 1622 N. 75th Court, Elmwood Park, Ill., has been driving a truck since 1919 and has always enjoyed his job. But Mr. Jakubowski must not have felt quite up to the strain of his job for a time because he did not feel well. He had annoying aches and pains and he felt rundown. One of his fellow drivers told him about how HADACOL was helping people suffering from deficiencies of Vitamins B1, B2, Iron and Niacin. HADACOL seemed to be just what he needed. Here is what Mr. Jakubowski says:

MR. JAKUBOWSKI SAYS
"For awhile I was bothered with aches and pains and felt rundown. One day one of the other drivers suggested I start taking HADACOL. So I bought a bottle and started taking it. It has relieved my pains; they've almost completely disappeared, and no longer prevent me from sleeping well. This was three years ago when I took my first bottle of HADACOL. I still continue to take it and have recommended it to many of my friends. I truly think HADACOL is a good product."

Many thousands take HADACOL regularly because HADACOL makes it possible to actually relieve the REAL CAUSE of those nagging aches and pains when due to the lack of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron in the system.

AND LISTEN TO THIS! Continued use of this great HADACOL not only gives continuous complete relief but helps keep such painful distress from returning when caused by such deficiencies. Now that's the kind of product you have been waiting for. That's the kind you should buy and start taking at once.

And HADACOL'S wonderful Vitamins and Minerals come in special pleasant liquid form so they are quickly absorbed and assimilated in the blood, ready to go to work at once.

BY RAY BRANDENBURG

Well, the June graduates are busting out all over the U. S. There was a time when only top students or those with relatives found a job in a hurry... but now it seems that work opportunities will be thicker than a comedy Dutchman's accent. Naturally the armed forces are eyeing the June grads, and we hear industry will be crying for help like a window washer with a loose safety belt. Even if he stays out of the services, maybe every graduate won't get exactly the job he wants on the first try. It's said there's always room at the top... but the elevator service is kind of slow.

Congratulations to Joe Peters, on his re-election as president of the Chamber of Commerce.

When I reminisce about the beginning of the present Chamber of Commerce setup I remember about a small group of earnest men who had some vision about the future of Washington C. H. and Fayette County and they did something about it. By dint of a lot of hard work and untiring efforts a successful Chamber of Commerce was founded and has carried on in a fine manner.

Joe, to you and your board of directors and secretary we offer our full support. Let's make our C of C even better than it now is.

A 36-year-old Canadian married his grandfather's widow and became his own grandpa. There's one grandpa who can't complain about the younger generation. During our twenty-one years in business, no one has ever complained about the complete and minor servicing we've given to thousands of cars. Yes... you too can find a satisfactory job for your car... and a fair deal always... at R. BRANDENBURG MOTOR SALES, INC., 524 Clinton Ave. Phone: 2575.

Bible School Graduation Held

Program Presented Here on Sunday

The two weeks daily vacation Bible School of First Christian Church came to a close on Sunday evening when graduation services for the children and an entertaining and well-planned program were held.

Mary Sue Belles and Margaret Gibson opened the program with a piano-organ duet. Following were salutes to the American flag, Christian flag and the Bible and songs "America," "Onward Christian Soldiers," and "My Bible and I" by the entire group. Each child who attended the Bible School took part in the services.

A prayer song, "Precious Lord" by all the children was followed by the Lord's Prayer and a response, "God Answers Prayer."

Mrs. Milbourne Flee was the capable director for the two weeks school, told of the work the children had done and the songs and Biblical stories they had learned. She expressed her appreciation to Bible school teachers for their untiring help.

Each morning, she explained, Rev. C. B. Tigner read a missionary story to the group or told of some missionary work being done in different parts of the world. Each day's work included song services, Scriptures and handwork. New methods of teaching were used this year, including the visual aid method.

Puppet Show Presented

The "Beginners" theme was "Learning about Jesus." During the school the youths learned stories and songs pertaining to the life of Christ. They sang songs and presented a pantomime of Philip and the Eunuch.

"The Good Shepherd" was the theme for the primary children. They recited the 23rd Psalm in unison and sang several songs. They also showed how they had learned to study by Flannelgraph and the 23rd Psalm was told in this way to the audience.

The Juniors had made clever representations of shoe bags. The "shoes" were printed each day with Scriptures concerning "The Christian's Walk and Talk." The children displayed their work and read Scriptures and sang songs for the services.

A clever and educational puppet show was given by the Intermediates, whose theme was "Parables of Jesus Told." Several of the parables of Jesus were enacted by the "puppets" as the Biblical story was read. These were the "Pharisee and the Publican," the "Lost Coin," "Unmerciful Servant," "Parable of the Banquet." The group also sang two songs. The setting for the show and also the puppets were made by the pupils.

Following the offering, Mrs. Flee presented the pupils with their graduation certificates. Certificates were given to all those who had attended five days or over. Several had perfect attendance records.

Average attendance for the school was 66, and the missionary offering of $20.20 brought by the children, will be given to the East Tennessee Christian Home for orphans.

Handwork Displayed

The song "Hallelujah" and the theme song "Walking with Jesus" by the entire group closed the program.

Handwork of the pupils was displayed following the services in the church social rooms and those attending were given the opportunity to see what the children had made. Their work was proof of their interest and the careful instruction of the teachers.

Those helping Mrs. Flee were Rev. C. B. Tigner, as advisor, Miss Carolyn Merritt, song leader, Mrs. Amy Dunlap, assistant song leader, Margaret Gibson, pianist. Teachers in the beginners department were Mrs. Carl Meriwether, superintendent, Miss Shirley Hickman and Miss Janice East. Primary teachers were Mrs. Hazel McNorton, superintendent, Mrs. C. B. Tigner, Mrs. Walter McCoy, Mrs. Ted Merritt, Miss Mary Jane Pollard and Miss Nancy Spencer. Junior teachers were Mrs. Otis Stookey, superintendent, Mrs. Ben Norris, Mrs. William Carter and Mrs. Richard Moore. Intermediate teachers were Mrs. Ralph Hickman, superintendent and Mrs. Charles Sheridan.

City Schools Get $400 from Fund

The Washington C. H. schools are to be given $400 from the Eymann fund, under control of the county commissioners, toward the expense of the school lunch program.

Various schools of the county, running low in financing their school lunch program, by reason of furnishing lunches for a number of children unable to pay for such meals, have appealed to the commissioners for help from the Eymann fund during the past year.

A study was made of the entire city and county school lunch program, and an effort was made by the commissioners, assisted by the school authorities, to make a division of that part of the Eymann fund available, so as to be fair to all the schools.

Schools in the county system are being notified of the amount they are to receive.

Class of '26 Holds Reunion Over Weekend

25th Anniversary Of Graduation From WHS Noted

Members of the class of 1926 at Washington C. H. High School met during the past weekend for their first reunion since they had stepped up to receive their diplomas in caps and gowns 25 years ago.

Their reunion came under the cloud of international strain and inflation at home, but those who recalled the 1926 yearbook remembered that there were difficult days "back then."

A writer, recording conditions then wrote:

"The problem of the schools is ever becoming a more difficult one. The demands made upon the average citizen are much greater and are so complex in their nature that we exclaim with the poet: 'If to do were as easy as to know what were well to do, chapels had been churches and poor men's cottages princes' palaces.'"

Meeting with old friends and classmates after the long absence from hallowed halls was a stimulating and gratifying experience for all who came to take part in the reunion.

It was at the Washington Country Club Saturday night where the turn of years made for pleasant conversation along the line of "Do you know that — has done," and "Remember — Well, he's."

There were 90 persons on hand for the pleasant reunion dinner at the club, an affair celebrating their 50th anniversary of graduation.

Class President Presides

Presiding over the dinner was Edric Ellies, editor and chief of the 1926 "Sunburst" (the yearbook), class president, and now an engineer with the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. of Akron.

Ellies called on each class member to speak, and letters were read by Dorothy Pensyl from those unable to be present.

That much time had passed since the class of '26 ended their high school education was evidenced when a silent prayer was given for the deceased members by Charles Hazard, the class vice president.

Faculty members who responded were Mrs. Roush Burton, Mrs. C. L. Ford, Gladys Melson, Amy Conn, Karl Kay and Loren Wilson. Supt. Stephen Brown was read by Karl Kay.

Howard Dellinger, who was the outstanding athlete in the class, was presented a gift for arranging the reunion.

Class colors were used in decorating the club. Over the balcony a large gold and green flag, with the numerals 26, a part of the flag which was used during the graduation exercises of the class was spotlighted.

Vote to Hold Another

The reunion was so successful that the class members voted to hold another one in five years, and a collection was taken up to defray the expenses of it.

On Sunday the class members and other persons from this city were given an opportunity to hear from a graduate of the class of 1926 who made good in her chosen field, music.

The opportunity came at 3 P. M. Sunday when Mrs. Enid McClure Woodward of the music faculty at Carleton College in Northfield, Minn., presented an organ recital to some 300 persons in attendance.

The giant 'copter took off at dawn from Fargo, N. D., bound for Dayton. It landed some time later at O'Hare Air Field near Chicago, some 540 miles from its takeoff.

The flight of the H-19 Sikorsky craft started under a veil of secrecy and ended the same way.

The Old Home Town

By Stanley

at a Memorial Assembly celebrating the 75th commencement season at WHS.

The assembly was conducted similar to regular high school assemblies with which the graduates of WHS are familiar.

The program opened with the group singing the traditional commencement hymn, "Lead On, O King Eternal," with Karl J. Kay at the organ and Loren Wilson conducting.

Rev. Harold J. Braden gave the invocation and benediction. Following the invocation, "The Lord's Prayer" was sung by Charlene Mark, mezzo-soprano of the class of 1926, with Althea Kay Case, also of the class of '26, accompanying at the organ.

First Graduate Invited

John Sagar served as the master of ceremonies. He read an interesting letter from Mrs. C. F. Ballard, the only surviving member of the class of 1876, which was the first class to be graduated from WHS.

Mrs. Ballard had been invited to attend as the honored guest, but was unable to do so.

Sharon Rettig, president of the Class of 1951, responded with a greeting on behalf of her class. Supt. Stephen Brown gave a brief address.

The audience obtained a great deal of satisfaction out of having all the retired teachers who could be present on the stage of the high school auditorium.

Those present among the teachers were: Ellen Montgomery, Corda McCafferty, Mrs. Ed Fite, Amy V. Conn and Karl J. Kay. A greeting from Miss Conn was read by Karl Kay.

Other teachers who had been invited were Agnes Kerrigan and Mrs. Ethyl McElwain, who were both unable to be present.

Sagar introduced Mrs. Woodward who presented the organ recital on the alumni memorial organ. Her program of five organ compositions was full of variety and exquisitely played.

Some of her best playing was done with a group of chorale preludes, which expressed deep religious feeling.

She also chose the "Bach Prelude," with its stirring and exciting climaxes; "Carillon de Westminster," with its riotous depiction of the ringing of many chimes and great and small bells. The memorial hymn, "O God, Our Help in Ages Past" concluded the program.

Many Out-of-Town Guests

Out-of-town guests and classmates at the reunion Saturday night included the following: Mrs. Henry Woodward, Northfield, Minn.
